

MARK L. MONIN, MBA

Mark Monin is a Director and Vice President with the El Toro Water District.

For over 38 years Mr. Monin has been in the investment management industry, with industry leaders like Merrill Lynch and Morgan Stanley and is now with his current firm Raymond James. He currently advises a broad range of clients including corporations and high net worth individuals.

Mark believes in a process that is environmentally sensitive supported by the environmental community, improved water reliability, reducing dependency on imported water by using recycled water and ensuring that there is an adequate water supply.

Director Monin is a member of several water industry organizations, including the ACWA where he sits on 5 Committees, and the Orange County Water Association. He is also 1st Vice President of the Independent Special Districts of Orange County.

Mark was born in New York and was promoted to California in 1987. Director Monin received his Bachelor's degree in Finance at Canisius College, and received his Master's Degree in Business (MBA) from Pepperdine University, he also attended Wharton University.

He was also a Firefighter in New York and in California with the Orange County Fire Authority. Mark loves aviation and is a Commercial pilot and Vice Chairman / Commissioner of the Orange County Airport Commission (Land Use).

Mr. Monin is an active member in the community. His interests include weightlifting, biking, polo, crew, golfing and hiking.